Pittsburgh Print Group

The Pittsburgh Print Group (www.pittsburghprintgroup.com) is a non-profit organization of artists who work in all fine art printmaking media. Founded in 1972, the Print Group is dedicated to artistic excellence and the perpetuation of printmaking as an art form by providing its members with exhibition opportunities throughout the southwestern Pennsylvania region.

Exhibition, education and artist networking are the PPG's primary activities. These include development of proposals for exhibitions in private galleries, museums and other appropriate venues, organizing and managing group shows, publicizing group and member activities and creating community and educational events through demonstrations, artist talks and workshops.

The Pittsburgh Print Group is managed by a volunteer board of directors. Member input and volunteer participation are highly valued and essential to the health and future of the organization. Members are regularly asked to participate in a PPG committee and help organize and manage exhibitions, workshops, demonstrations and other events. In order to encourage more direct member participation, general meetings are held at least twice a year. Communication with members through e-mail as well as printed mail is ongoing.

Affiliations

The Pittsburgh Print Group is an affiliated guild of Pittsburgh Filmmakers/Pittsburgh Center for the Arts. This guild affiliation provides the Print Group with exhibition opportunities through a proposal review process and use of facilities for meetings and workshops at both Pittsburgh Filmmakers and the Pittsburgh Center for the Arts. Print Group members also enjoy exhibition opportunities at the PCA through many exhibits sponsored by other affiliated guilds that are open to all guild artists.

Guild affiliation also entitles the PPG to be represented on Guild Council. Presidents or representatives from each affiliated guild meet regularly to discuss ideas, opportunities and concerns that affect guild artists at PCA.

Membership in the Pittsburgh Print Group does not include or constitute membership in PF/PCA. Individual membership information on PF/PCA is available at www.pittsburgharts.org.
